

50+ Most Important Idioms For IELTS PDF

Bite the bullet: To face a difficult or unpleasant situation bravely.

Break a leg: A way to wish someone good luck.

Piece of cake: Something very easy to do.

Hit the nail on the head: To describe something precisely or accurately.

Cost an arm and a leg: Very expensive.

Let the cat out of the bag: To reveal a secret.

Kill two birds with one stone: Accomplish two things with a single effort.

A penny for your thoughts: Asking someone what they are thinking about.

Burning the midnight oil: Working or studying late into the night.

Don't cry over spilled milk: Don't worry about things that have already happened and can't be changed.

In the same boat: In the same situation.

Every cloud has a silver lining: There's a positive side to every negative situation.

The ball is in your court: It's your turn to take action.

Hitting the books: Studying hard.

Raining cats and dogs: Raining heavily.

The apple of my eye: Someone or something cherished above all others.

A picture paints a thousand words: A visual presentation is more descriptive than words.

Actions speak louder than words: What someone does is more important than what they say.

Don't put all your eggs in one basket: Don't rely on one thing for success.

All ears: Eager to listen or hear something.

Under the weather: Feeling sick or unwell.

A blessing in disguise: Something that appears to be bad but is actually beneficial.

Once in a blue moon: Rarely, almost never.

Walking on air: Feeling extremely happy or delighted.

It's a piece of pie: Very easy.

Cry over spilled milk: To be upset about something that cannot be changed.

When pigs fly: Something that will never happen.

Tooth and nail: To fight fiercely for something.

Cutting corners: Doing something in a cheap or easy way, often resulting in poor quality.

Stepping on someone's toes: Offending or intruding upon someone.

Hold your horses: Be patient or wait a moment.

Barking up the wrong tree: To make a wrong assumption or accusation.

The ball is in your court: It's your turn to make a decision or take action.

Jumping the gun: Starting something too soon, before it's appropriate.

Keep your chin up: Remain optimistic and positive in a difficult situation.

Spill the beans: Reveal a secret.

Cost a pretty penny: Expensive.

Hit the books: Start studying seriously.

In hot water: In trouble or difficulty.

Bite off more than you can chew: Taking on more responsibility than you can handle.

A taste of your own medicine: Experiencing what you've done to others.

Beat around the bush: Avoiding the main topic or issue.

Get a kick out of something: To find something very enjoyable.

Straight from the horse's mouth: Information from a reliable source.

Caught between a rock and a hard place: In a difficult situation with no good options.

Break the ice: To start a conversation in a social setting.

Cry wolf: Raise a false alarm.

At the drop of a hat: Willing to do something immediately.

You can't judge a book by its cover: You can't judge someone's character based on appearance alone.

Don't count your chickens before they hatch: Don't make plans based on something that might not happen.

Break the bank: Spend all of one's money.

Off the hook: Freed from a responsibility or obligation.

Blow off steam: Release stress or pent-up emotions.

A dime a dozen: Very common and easy to find.

Hit the nail on the head: Expressing something accurately or precisely.

Tackle IELTS
LEARN A LANGUAGE DIFFERENTLY